

Northern Ireland Simulation & Human Factors Network

“Thinking Differently: How do we change behaviour to improve patient safety?”

Autumn Conference 2016

Friday 14th October 2016
Riddel Hall, Belfast

08:45 – 09:15	Registration
09:15 – 09:30	Opening remarks	Dr Anne Kilgallen Deputy Chief Medical Officer
Session 1	How do we understand and change behaviours?	Chair: Professor Keith Gardiner Postgraduate Dean, NIMDTA
09:30 – 10:15	Simulation based education: More than the manikin?	Dr Helen Higham ASPIH President
10:15 – 11:00	Human factors: Addressing the missing link in patient safety	Dr Richard Corry Consultant Anaesthetist, South-Eastern Trust
11:00 – 11:30	Coffee and Trade Exhibition
Session 2	Building a collaborative approach	Chair: Dr Martin Duffy Consultant in Anaesthesia & Intensive Care, Belfast Trust
11:30 – 12:15	How do you create a successful simulation network?	Professor Ian Curran Assistant Director of Education and Professional Standards, GMC and Technology-enhanced Learning Initiative (sTeLI)
12:15 – 12:35	The Northern Ireland Simulation and Human Factors Network	Dr Mike Morrow Simulation Lead, NIMDTA and Chair NISHFN

12:35 – 12:55	The role of simulation and human factors training as part of Quality 2020	Dr Glynis Henry Former Head of HSC Clinical Education Centre
12:55 – 13:15	Panel discussion
13:15 – 14:00	Lunch, Poster Judging and Trade Exhibition
Session 3	Simulation Based Education: Theory into practice	Chair: Professor Charlotte McArdle Chief Nursing Officer
14:00 – 14:45	A Patient's Perspective	Mr Iain Upton Speaking4Yourself
14:45 – 15:45	In-situ simulation Workshop
15:45 – 16:15	Coffee and Trade Exhibition
Session 4	Thinking Differently: Innovative Local Approaches to Simulation	Chair: Dr Una Carabine DME and Clinical Sub Dean, Belfast Trust
16:15 – 16:25	A showcase of different approaches being used around the region	Dr Tom Bourke Consultant Paediatrician, RBHSC
16:25 – 16:35		Dr Gerry Gormley Senior Academic General Practitioner, QUB
16:35 – 16:45		Dr Marian Traynor Director of Education, School of Nursing and Midwifery, QUB
16:45 – 16:55	Update from the Royal College of Surgeons in Ireland	Prof Jim Murray Professor of Simulation & Clinical Skills RCSI
16:55 – 17:05	Closing remarks and poster prize giving	Dr Mike Morrow Simulation Lead, NIMDTA and Chair NISHFN
17:05 – 18:00	Drinks Reception and Trade Exhibition

Approved by RCOA for 5 CPD Points